EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

With uncertainty surrounding federal assistance programs, combined with the state’s budget challenges over the past two years, the importance of understanding a chaotic grant funding landscape has never been greater. This report includes a complete list of all municipal grant funding opportunities being tracked by CPPG and an overview of the status of major state and federal grant funding sources.

- California State Budget: In January 2025, Governor Newsom unveiled his January Budget Proposal for FY 25-26. The state’s fiscal outlook has stabilized after two years of deficits and budget cuts, with a modest budget surplus projected. However, federal spending cuts and revenue volatility may impact the state’s fiscal outlook.
- Proposition 1: The first competition for Proposition 1’s Behavioral Health Continuum Infrastructure Program (BHCIP) closed in December 2024. A second and final round (titled “Unmet Needs”) will open up in 2025.
- Proposition 4: Rollout of the Proposition 4 “Climate Bond” funding programs will begin in earnest once the California FY 25-26 budget is adopted in July 2025. Until then, the state will conduct listening sessions to collect input on how to deploy the bond funding.
- Federal Budget: The Republican House and Senate Causes are currently negotiating budget reconciliation packages to pursue the administration’s priority of passing an extension and expansion of the Tax Cuts and Jobs Act of 2017. Initial estimates put the tax cut package will reduce federal revenues by $4 trillion, which will require offsets to make the package budget neutral so that it can qualify for reconciliation and be passed in the Senate with a simple majority vote. Additionally, Speaker Johnson has been negotiating a FY 25 federal budget with a potential March 14th government shutdown looming. House and Senate Democrats in Congress are attempting to negotiate restrictions on the President’s attempts to impound funding. House Republicans, meanwhile, are attempting to pass a spending package without Democratic votes.
- Bipartisan Infrastructure Law (BIL): Absent congressional action to rescind programmed funding, discretionary grant programs funded through the BIL will continue to announce and obligate appropriated funds as required under the Impoundment Control Act of 1974 through Federal FY 26. Programs funded through the BIL are at varying stages. For BIL programs, CPPG has included information on the remaining funding in the list of upcoming funding opportunities below. While BIL funding has maintained consistent bipartisan support in the Senate, Congress could still rescind unobligated funds as part of a budget reconciliation package.
- Inflation Reduction Act (IRA): Future grant funding opportunities through the IRA are not anticipated at this point in time. There may be opportunities to take advantage of “Direct Pay” tax credit incentives under the IRA, depending on the outcome of the budget reconciliation and adoption process under the Republican Congress, and financing programs through the Greenhouse Gas Reduction Fund (GGRF).

Following the Trump Administration

Information current as of 2/25/2025.

The first month of the second Trump administration has been defined by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) and the Department of Government Efficiency (DOGE)'s administrative actions to freeze federal assistance programs, cancel federal funding contracts, Rescinding Biden's Executive Orders: On President Trump's first day in office, he took action to rescind Executive Orders signed under the previous administration that had a tremendous impact on integrating DEI principles and climate action into the array of discretionary federal assistance programs (aka competitive grants).

The OMB Memo: On January 27th, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) issued Memo M-25-13 ordering a "temporary pause" on the obligation or disbursement of all Federal financial assistance. The pause was set to take effect at 5:00 PM Eastern Time on Tuesday, January 28, 2025. The Memo further indicated that OMB will take action "to the extent permissible by law" to "cancel awards already awarded that are in conflict with administration priorities."

Minutes before the pause was set to take effect, U.S. District Judge Loren L. AliKhan issued an administrative stay order, effective until February 3rd, to allow more time for the court to consider legal questions surrounding the OMB Memo. The lawsuit being considered by Judge AliKhan was filed by the National Council of Nonprofits. Following a tumultuous 48 hours, and in response to Judge AliKhan's administrative stay, OMB issued Memo M-25-14 simply stating: "OMB Memorandum M-25-13 is rescinded. If you have questions about implementing the President's Executive Orders, please contact your agency General Counsel." On January 31st, Judge John McConnell Jr. issued a Temporary Restraining Order (TRO) in a lawsuit filed by a coalition of 22 "blue state" Attorney Generals.

The New York State Attorney General's Office is arguing that the executive branch refusing to disperse congressionally appropriated funds is a violation of the separation of powers. The Department of Justice argues that the freeze is within the President's authority. A ruling from Judge John McConnell Jr. on a potential injunction is expected this week.

Rescinding NOFOs for Administrative Review: Following the TRO, the Trump administration has continued taking down published funding opportunity announcements for an administrative review process to ensure compliance with President Trump's executive orders. Active grant competitions have been paused for programs administered by the Department of Transportation, Department of Justice, Bureau of Reclamation, and various other agencies.

On the morning of January 28th, prior to the TRO, OMB issued instructions ordering agency staff to complete a spreadsheet to vet over 2,600 federal assistance programs to affirm alignment with the administration’s priorities. This offers some insight into the administration’s review process, establishing an eight-pronged test for the review of federal assistance programs:

1. Does this program provide Federal funding to non-governmental organizations supporting or providing services, either directly or indirectly, to removable or illegal aliens?
2. Is this program a foreign assistance program, or provide funding or support activities overseas?
3. Does this program provide funding that is implicated by the revocation and rescission of the U.S. International Climate Finance Plan?
4. Does this program include activities that impose an undue burden on the identification, development, or use of domestic energy resources (including through funding under the Inflation Reducing Act of 2022; and the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act)?
5. Does this program provide funding that is implicated by the directive to end discriminatory programs, including illegal DEI and “diversity, equity, inclusion, and accessibility” (DEIA) mandates, policies, programs, preferences, and activities, under whatever name they appear, or other directives in the same EO, including those related to “environmental justice” programs or “equity-related” grants?
6. Does this program promote gender ideology?
7. Does this program promote or support in any way abortion or other related activities identified in the Hyde Amendment?
8. If not covered in the preceding columns, does this program support any activities that must not be supported based on executive orders issued on or after January 20, 2025 (including executive orders released following the dissemination of this spreadsheet)?

On his first day in office, President Trump signed an Executive Order titled “Unleashing American Energy” that instituted an immediate pause with a 90-day review window of federal assistance agreements for all programs authorized under the Bipartisan Infrastructure Law (BIL) and Inflation Reduction Act (IRA) – the two marquee federal assistance packages passed under the Biden administration (please refer to Section 7 of the Executive Order’s text). The White House Press Secretary has argued that the rescission of OMB Memo M-25-13 does not rescind the pause instituted via Executive Order on President Trump’s first day. OMB Memo M-25-13 went beyond what was outlined in the initial Executive Order, impacting virtually all federal assistance programs that provide funding to state governments, local governments, institutions of higher education, and non-governmental organizations.

Funding for Sanctuary Jurisdictions: On February 5th, Attorney General Pam Bondi issued a memorandum to all Department of Justice staff titled “Sanctuary City Directives.” The memo seeks to end the provision of Department of Justice grant funding to state and local jurisdictions that “unlawfully interfere with Federal Law Enforcement Operations” until a review is completed and to “terminate any agreements that are in violation of the law or are a source of waste, fraud or abuse and initiate clawback or recoupment procedures, where appropriate.” Similar action was taken during the first Trump administration, but there is clear precedent from the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals ruling during the first administration that the DOJ lacks the statutory authority to impose restrictions on funding allocated by Congress. Two cities in Massachusetts have filed a lawsuit challenging the action. The City Attorney of San Francisco announced his intention to file a lawsuit challenging the DOJ’s attempt to strip funding from sanctuary cities two days after AG Bondi’s memorandum, but the lawsuit has not yet been filed. Concurrently, the House of Representatives is considering legislation explicitly granting that statutory authority to the administration via H.R.32 titled the “No Bailouts for Sanctuary Cities Act.”

USDOT Funding Priorities: On February 10th, Transportation Secretary Sean Duffy issued a memorandum to “reset” the Department’s priorities for discretionary spending programs – which offers us some insight into the administration’s technical efforts to redistribute federal assistance funds. The memo directs staff to prioritize projects and goals that:

1. Utilize user-pay models;
2. Direct funding to local opportunity zones where permitted;
3. To the extent practicable, relevant, appropriate, and consistent with law, mitigate the unique impacts of DOT programs, policies, and activities on families and family-specific difficulties, such as the accessibility of transportation to families with young children, and give preference to communities with marriage and birth rates higher than the national average (including in administering the Federal Transit Administration's Capital Investment Grant program);
4. Prohibit recipients of DOT support or assistance from imposing vaccine and mask mandates; and
5. Require local compliance or cooperation with Federal immigration enforcement and with other goals and objectives specified by the President of the United States or the Secretary.

CPPG will continue to monitor developments from the Trump administration and Congress to keep our clients informed as the federal funding assistance landscape continues to evolve.
